The Rinderpest-An Alarm in Penusylture as New Existing in Montgomery

The Philadelphia Isquirer of Saturday, Feb. , publishes the following as its leading editorial

"This unpleasant question will force itself upon the public notices from to day. In our report of the proceedings of the State Legislature yesterday, will be noticed with ominous distinctness the semi-official account from Montgemery County reconsting the ravages of a cattle plague, similar in all appearances to the terrible Rinderpeat now devastating England.

This report sets forth that the diseased met has been sold in the markets of our city. The official publicity given to the prevalence of the disease' will check this af once. Those whose duty it is to inspect the meats offered for sale to the curious of Philadelphia, will see the necessity of exercising more than ordinary vigilance.

A special committee has been appointed by the State Senate to theroughly investigate the report from Montgomers County. By proper precaution the disease can be confined to the infected districts, as has been abundantly proved by the experience of English farmers and stock-raisers. In this matter prompt and decisive action is necessary. If the disease does really exist attention is necessary. If the disease does really exist attention is necessary. If the disease does really exist attention is necessary to Montgomery County, a strict bovine quarantine should at once be established, and in diseased beasts be allowed to cross the borders of the infected district. In this case an onner of prevention is worth many pounds of cure.
